Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 20 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Heavy rain at times over the weekend, improving next week.

This Evening and Tonight:
Wet weather will spread eastwards tonight, turning heavy in places, especially over the Pennines. Mild but with thick fog over the hills. Winds generally light. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Saturday:
Cloudy with fog over the hills and some longer periods of rain, which will turn heavy and perhaps thundery at times. Light winds. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rather cloudy with some rain likely at first on Sunday before brightening up, though with a risk of thundery showers developing. Monday and Tuesday drier, a little brighter and warmer.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.